RELIGIOUS.

The Methodists.

In the General Conference of the Methedist Episcopal Church, South, at Memphis on Tuesday, there was much discussion on the report of the Committee on Missions.

of the Committee on Missions.

That portion declaring the action of Smithson, the treasurer of the foreign board, in investing funds in Erie stock a reckless Wall street speculation was discussed at great length, without action. The report of the committee accepting Bledsoe's Quarterly Review provoked an extended debate, during which one member said he understood Bledsoe. which one member said he understood Bledsoe was an Episcopalian. This looked like a bid for him to come over. Another characterized for him to come over. Another characterized the Review as an Armstrong gun. Dr. Bunnell said, as experience has shown, that most disastrous consequences would follow the explosion of guns of large calibre. He thought an explosion would follow the adoption of the resolution which would shake the church from pillar to dome. The report was finally adopted.

The Committee on Sunday-schools made an labeled a report providing for a general secreelaborate report providing for a general secretary of Sunday-schools to be elected by the General Conference, and secretaries to each Annual Conference, who shall report to the general secretary, in order to inaugurate a more efficient and uniform system. After a lengthy discussi on the report was adopted. The Presbyterians. The business before the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church at Louisville, on Tuesday, was the reception of fraternal salutations from other religious bodies, and the seection of Huntsville, Alabama, for the next meeting of the conference, after two ballots. At night an enthusiastic foreign missionary meeting was held, and addressed by the Rev. J. T. Wilson, of South Carolina, and by the Rev. Allen Wright, of the Choctaw Nation, and the Rev. B. M. Palmer, of New Orleans. Up to this time the assembly has been holding only one session, and this morning it was a very brief one, in order to give the commit-tees time to digest and prepare subjects for consideration.

The Presbyterian General Synod, at Philadelphia, was engaged on Tuesday in the discussion of the report of the Committee on Reconstruction of Boundaries; among others those of the Synods of China, Siam and Japan. LOUISVILLE, May 26.

The Presbyterian General Assembly met yesterday. The subject of most intense interest was the reception of the delegates from Northern Presbyterian churches, consisting of the Rev. Dr. Backus, of Baltimore; Rev. Dr. Van Dyke, of Brooklyn, and the Hon. W. E. Dodge, of New York. They presented resolutions of that assembly expressing fraternal regard, and followed them with remarks, in which it was stated that they came not to ask for reunion, nor to ask for immediate correspondence, but to ask the appointment of a committee to meet a similar committee appointed by the Northern Assembly, and to confer respecting varied matters and questions of jurisdiction and property rights between the two assembiles, and to secure, if possible, the adjustment of all differences between the two bodies on a basis just and honorable to all, and worthy of Christian men. While they were speaking, there was breathless interest and deep emotion, forming a scene that will not soon be forgotten. The kind words of the speakers evidently found a lodgment in the hearts of those to whom they were addressed. The overtures were referred to the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, which was directed to prepare a well considered reply.

The Baptists. The fifty-sixth annual meeting of the American Baptist Missionary Union was opened at Philadelphia on Tuesday. No business of much importance came up, except a statement of the receipts and expenditures, showing an excess of the latter of over nineteen thousand dollars.

Sunday-School Union.

The celebration of the forty-sixth anniversary of the American Sunday-School Union at lay seems to have been of peculiar interest. About five hundred children united in singing chants and hymns, which were interspersed by appropriate addresses. It was stated that during the year there had been visited and aided 4250 schools, containing 32,497 teachers and 273,346 scholars. American Israelites.

The Board of Delegates of American Israelites met in New York on Monday evening. Delegates were present from Baltimore, Washington, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Boston, and other cities. Mr. A. Hart, of Philadelphia, presided, and the proceedings were opened with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Isaacs. The secretary read the report of the Executive Committee for the past year. Among other things, the committee reported that a concession had been gained from the Governor of syria for the purpose of acquiring land for the establishment of a Jewish agricultural school, and as soon as it was confirmed at Con-stantinople the school would at once be begun The committee strennously urged that energy and industry should be infused among the Jewish population of Palestine. The report said that the condition of the Jews in Roumania had not improved. Scenes of violence nia had not improved. Scenes of violence had recently taken place at Bucharest, and a number of families had been turned out of their homes at Vacco and Galatz. In Russia a large number of families had been likewise turned out of their homes in consequence of the revival of an old law which prohibited Vaccilities term residing near the from hibited Israelites from residing near the fron-tier. The United States Minister at St. Petersburg had been instructed to protest against these persecutions of the Jews. Destitute and ignorant Jews should not be sent to America indiscriminately. Mr. Hallevy's mission to China had not yet, for some unknown cause, been undertaken. The Universal Alliance had been undertaken. The Universal Alhance had held their annual meeting lately in Paris, under the presidency of Mr. Cremieux. There were about 12,000 members now dwelling in all parts of the globe. The Alliance had established numerous schools in Syria and the East. The committee recommended that means should be adopted to have a law passed in all the State of America similar to that of the the States of America similar to that of the State of New York, providing that Jews who keep their Sabbath should not be prevented from following their avocations on Sunday, provided they did not interfere with the rights of other denominations.

THE BODY OF DE SOTO .- An extraordinary THE BODY OF DE SOTO.—An extraordinary story regarding the probable discovery of the copper-fastened coffin containing the body of the renowned explorer, De Soto, is told by the Memphis Appeal. It appears that Captain John Cowdon, who for many years has devoted himself to the task of dragging up wrecked vessels from the fathomless abysess along the Mississing has for several weeks past heen. Mississippi, has for several weeks past been making a survey of the localities which may contain uncounted wealth, and while inspecting the water line along the eastern shore, he discovered the bow of a small copper-fastened vessel protruding into the river. It was also observed that trees from five to seven feet in diameter grew immediately above the buried boat, and that the roots of these gizantic cypresses were twiced at hese gigantic cypresses were twined about the ancient vessel. The theory of John Cowdon is that, considering its dimensions, twice as great as those of a modern yawl, its copperfastening, the length of time it has rested beneath the soil and water, as shown by the mighty trees that stand above it, the sunken croft entries the body of the three hundred.

THE PEOPLE EVERYWHERE RIS-ING FOR REFORM.

Edgefield, Fairfield, York, Greenville and Oconee Respond to the Call.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE NEWS. 1

COLUMBIA, May 26. The intelligence that reaches here from all sections of the State, as to the reawakened spirit of the people and their enthusiasm for the Reform movement, is highly cheering.

In addition to the sixteen counties already mentioned as having taken action with a vie w to be represented in the June Convention, we have authentic information to-night that Edgefield, Fairfield, York, Greenville and Oconee have issued calls for county meetings on the 6th of June, to choose delegates to represent those counties in Columbia.

Richland is going to heartily second the voice of Charleston in behalf of Retrenchment

The onslaughts of Senator Cain, in the M issionary Record, have at length awakened the Scott Ring to the necessity of seeming to do something in the line of konesty and retrenchment. The advisory board of the land commission held a meeting to-night, for the purpose of arraigning Mr. State Treasurer Niles G. Parker for his course in regard to the purchase of certain lands in Charleston County. It appears that six tracts of land were bought of Mr. Schley, at about $30,000, for which the State was charged and paid $120,000. The lands had not even been seen by the commissioner, nor by any member of the board, and are now represented as almost worthless. The investigation is now in progress, under the direction of Secretary of State Cardozo.

THE STATE RALLIES FOR REFORM.

Richland Moves.

The Columbia papers publish the following call: "The citizens of Richland, white and colored, irrespective of party, but who are in favor of economy, retrenchment and reform, low taxes and a wise, patriotic and honest administration of our state government, are requested to meet in their respective townships on Saturday, 28th instant, and select four delegates each to attend a county convention, to be held at Columbia on the first Monday in June next, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the State Convention, which will assemble on the 15th of that month.

Lose no Time.

[From the Newberry Herald.] The ball is in motion for the overthrow of The ball is in motion for the overthrow of the vile government which now fetters the State, and which is ruining her best interests, and it cannot be long surely ere the end shall be seen. No matter what the means, it it be not dishonorable, so the end be right. We confess to have despaired of any early results from a convention, thinking that the time had not quite come when anything like reason or truth or sense could be made to enter the related of a records so infaturated and blinded by minds of a people, so infattated and blinded by the specious lies of Radical teachings, as the colored people are, but subsequent events are bringing out new lights; the rogues are fallbringing out new lights; the logues are laning out among themselves and are peaching, and when rogues fall out honest men come in for the share unjustly held from them. So it is now. The pickings, and stealings, and appropriations, and greasings, have not been equally distributed, and the "loyal," for sometime dissatished, are breaking out in threats, and tales are being told which the string-holdtime dissatisfied, are breaking out in threats, and tales are being told which the string-holders would like to keep back; but what is to be will be, and they must stand the storm. The ring in Columbia is much exercised, the treasury is ebbing low, the hungry expectants are tired of waiting, and for some time losing hope, have been looking into and seeing with their cwn eyes what is to be seen. That time is the good time, when the dupes are no longer to be imposed on, and made to believe that the moon is made of green cheese, and that there can be cut from it slices enough to satisfy them all. That will be the good time when it comes. It has not yet come, but come it must, and then honesty and truth shall be established in the country, and peace, harmony and prosperity prevail. In the meantime let the convention, which is a fixed fact, meet in June, and let wedges be entered wherever there is an opening, and where there is none let one be made. Let the convention be held, and well attended, for in the multitude of

We persistently refused him the full measure of legal rights accorded to the white man. In our pride and prejudice we stood mute, with arms and hands folded in stupidity and delay, looking upon the anomalous scene being enacted around us, strangers by the hundreds and thousands flocking into the State from all parts of the globe, holding to the state from an parts of the grote, notating to views and political principles antagonistical to our own. These principles, so obnoxious and pernicious to the best interest of both white and black, were rapidly and successfully inculcated into the mind of the negro. In the meantime he was made a voter, carrying along with it the undoubted right to hold office. He was successfully led off from his former master in successfully led off from his former master in sympathy and affection, and united with his new-made acquaintance in sympathy and po-litical principle, and by his vote, so adroitly drawn away from our own grasp, placed these imported bybrids and himself in power, and has held the reins of State until there is absolutely nothing left but a wretched wreck-the skin and bones of a once proud and noble peo-

Now we claim that the white man is supe

Now we claim that the white man is superior to the negro. God has stamped the mark of superiority upon the brow of the white man. He has also stamped the mark of inferiority upon the brow of the negro.

Then let us demonstrate our superiority over him by inculcating into his mind proper principles of political economy. Let us educate him in the honest principles of industry, elevate his mind, if possible, to the highest standard of integrity and good morals; prove to him that his former master is his best friend. Convince him, if possible, that honesty is as essential in politics as in morals. esty is as essential in politics as in morals—that he, too, is a sufferer by a thieving, pilfering administration of the government; that the party in power are using him as 6 ing administration of the government; that the party in power are using him as a tool to keep themselves in power and place, while he toils and sweats in the labors of the field; that we recognize in him all the rights the law gives him, and we propose to take none away from him. Do this and invite him with all others who desire reform in our government, to unite with us in one grand effort to overthrow the political Sodom and Gomorrah of the State. Do this and we may, perchance, win them back to us. Is this yielding political principle? We think not. Should we not make an effort to save the State in the great struggle before us? Let us not sit down great struggle before us? Let us not sit down with folded arms because heretofore we have

THE POPE'S REPLY.

Cardinal Antonelli to the Emperors.

The Paris Universe publishes the reply of Cardinal Antonelli to the memorandum presented to the Court of Rome by Count Daru. on the subject of the Council:

The answer, which is of great length, ex-tending over two columns and a half of that journal, aims at establishing the fact that civil governments have nothing to do with the de-liberations of that body. If the Pope asks the bishops to proclaim him infallible and superior to all temporal powers, those attributes have always existed, and are, moreover, purely doc-trinal and speculative. They do not consti-tute an encroachment of which any one has a right to complain. Such, in substance, is the note from the Vatican, which concludes by the declaration that the dispatch from the late Minister of Foreign Affairs will not be communicated to the assembly of the fathers. Advices from Vienna mention another letter from the Cardinal to the Emperor Francis Joseph's government, and likwise referring to the Council. It seems to be sharper in tone than that to the Cabinet of the Tulleries.

A SUICIDE AT KINGSTREE. (From the Kingstree Star.)

Our citizens were startled on Monday evening last by the announcement that Mr. Edwin L. Levin had committed suicide at Mrs. Gewinner's hotel, in this place, by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. Mr. Levin was in his store as usual until about half-past two o'clock, attending to his business. He walked from his store down the street to the head and spoke to several persons He walked from his store down the street to the hotel, and spoke to several persons there and immediately walked into a passageway in the rear part of the house, where he engaged in some conversation with a lady friend, during which time he drew a small pocket pistol and said he was going to shoot himself, at the same time making the attempt to put the pistol to his head. The lady jerked his hands down and begged him to desist, and endeavored to give the alarm; but this, we are informed, excited him still more, and he unloosed the hold of his friend and shot and he unloosed the hold of his friend and shot himself before she could reach the adjoining room.
